

PROTECTING OUR WATER SUPPLY

In the Central Valley, life as we know it is dependent upon securing a reliable and clean supply of water. Farmers, families, and entire communities must receive the water they need to strengthen the economy and raise our families.

David knows that a safe and stable water supply is critical to the Central Valley and the State's $54 billion agriculture industry. In Congress, he will fight to address our local needs during the drought.